

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH is a service enterprise for development cooperation with international operations and global experience. Owned by the Federal Republic of Germany, the organization operates as a private-sector enterprise with a development policy mandate to make sustainable improvements to the living conditions of people in the countries we operate in. GIZ has a record of more than 60 years of working experience in Thailand.

Sector Network Rural Development and Natural Resources in Asia and the Pacific (SNRD Asia and the Pacific) is looking for an Intern to support the preparation and organization of the planned Joint Sector Networks Regional Conference taking place during 26-30 August 2024 in Bangkok, Thailand. The conference will welcome up to 240 participants. In principle, she/he is to give assistance to the Secretariat team in event organization and logistics, administrative tasks, PR and communication works, and other assigned tasks.

Intern (SNRD AP)

Background

The GIZ's Sector Network (SN) is a platform for cooperation and organised sharing of regional and technical knowledge among GIZ professionals working in partner countries and at GIZ Head Office in Germany. Currently, GIZ has 20 Sector Networks which have been set up according to thematic and regional focus. The Sector Networks serve as instruments for GIZ knowledge and innovation management, and have the following objectives:

- to promote joint, supranational learning within the region;
- to generate additional value for our clients and partners;
- to facilitate sectoral onboarding for GIZ's sector personnel and partner experts;
- to stimulate and promote innovation.

The Sector Network Natural Resources and Rural Development in Asia and the Pacific (SNRD Asia and the Pacific) connects experts working on green and rural development sectors from all over Asia and the Pacific and covers the topics of agriculture, biodiversity, climate change adaptation, green education, forest and marine conservation, gender, digital transformation, and the Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development. It has been set up to provide a platform for technical staff in Asia and the Pacific to learn from one another's experience and promote collaboration beyond project work. They operate mainly through various working groups and task forces and use formats such as regional conferences, trainings, virtual meetings and webinars to get together and exchange experiences and lessons learned. They have access to financial resources to fund their initiatives and generate meaningful results.

The work of SNRD Asia and the Pacific is governed by a Steering Group while daily operation is run by a joint Secretariat. The joint SNRD Asia and the Pacific and TUEWAS Secretariat, located in Bangkok, supports the two sector networks in their administrative processes, organisation, member services, PR & Communication, knowledge management, dialog formats as well as financing and monitoring.
